

The Good Morning

By
Rylee Keele

The school bell rings when the kids come in. The kids come out, but the teacher says "wait". The kids come back in.

The school bell rings again. The kids run out again. They tried to run home, but the teacher yelled very loud, "Stop! The bell is broken. Come back." The principal took all the kids into her office while the people are fixing the bell.

The End

